You and a group of your friends were walking around Poznań. You found an abandoned square, and the ubiquitous entry bans only aroused your curiosity. The square, however, was not completely abandoned, and entering there cost you your loss of freedom. A mysterious figure has imprisoned you in an abandoned circus tent and continues to look out for her victims. It just goes on another hunt and for you it is the last opportunity to overcome panic, prove that you can work together and above all to get out of there. Act fast!

Far away, somewhere in Arizona, after a long and restless day you decided to have fun at the local Saloon. However, too much whiskey triggered the aggression hidden somewhere, and so the fight turned into a shootout. Someone is dead, and you are still alive. Locked in a small custody for brawlers, you are waiting for a trial where verdict is obvious - executed by shooting. The judge and the executioner are on their way, so you only have 60 minutes to get out of jail and run a mile.

There are places where nothing is as it seems to be at first glance. There are situations in which a short, casual visit turns a peaceful life into a fierce fight for survival. This is such a place. A place where a nice lady from an second-hand bookshop turns into a disgusting witch. Her only desire is to keep you in power forever. Rescue depends only on your perceptiveness and ability to cooperate. Fortunately, you will be able to count on the help of unexpected allies such as you deceived by the gentleness of a nice librarian and a book under your arm. Can you break free from the clutches of the Witch? You only have 60 minutes, and this place has many secrets

Find a Way

A few meters underground. Cold. Ground. You were buried alive. As if that wasn't enough, you'll be out of oxygen in an hour. What will win - panic or the will to fight and willingness to survive?

The room is intended only for 2 people, which will be placed in two wooden boxes.

The boxes are not locked in any way and you can open them at any time.
